illness or disease, chronic stress, trauma etc., the first system in the body to shut down is the reproductive system.